

On To Pekin.

Forces Possibly Inadequate.

MASSACRES CONTINUE.

BOTH HEARS OF PRINCELOO'S SURRENDER

BATTLE IN ASHANTI.

General News Telegrams.

Winnipeg, Aug. 3.

Shanghai, Aug. 2: The allies advanced toward Pekin to-day. It is estimated that the expedition numbers 20,000 men of all arms, with 170 guns. It is hoped to reach Pekin, August 11th.

London, Aug. 3: No word comes this morning regarding the fortunes of the comparatively small body of troops which is believed to be forging its way towards Pekin. This silence is due probably to the diligent censorship rather than any lack of developments. According to the Express, cable messages from Che Foo, it is announced that the imperial troops advancing to oppose the relief force have completely wiped out the Christians town near Pekin. They killed five foreign priests and 10,000 native Christians. General Gaselle, so says this correspondent, strongly opposed an immediate advance, but was over-ruled by the other commanders and influenced by Washington's order to Chaffee to "Proceed without delay."

London, Aug. 3: The Tien Tsin correspondent of the Standard says "a heartrending letter has been received from the Japanese legation, dated July 22nd, stating that the casualties numbered 60 per cent., that only 25 cartridges per man were left with rations sufficient for five days, and it is feared the legation will succumb within a week. A Shanghai special announces the receipt of an official telegram from the Tsung Li Yamen asserting that the ministers were all well on July 30th, and vegetables, fruits and other supplies had been sent to legations on several occasions. "Friendly intercourse," the official telegram says, "is now being carried on between the government and the ministers."

Broderick's statement in the House of Commons yesterday, placing Great Britain on record as unalterably opposed to the partition of China, is well received by all the morning papers.

Shanghai, Aug. 2: A big battle is reported in progress between the Pekin relief column and the Chinese army near Yang Tsing, eighteen miles north of Tien Tsin. The Chinese army of 30,000 is massed at Yang Tsun. It is reported that 50 missionaries have been massacred in Shanghai province.

London, Aug. 3: The Pretoria correspondent of the Daily Mail telegraphs on Wednesday and says: "Botha is weakening. He sent messengers to Lord Roberts asking for confirmation of the report of the surrender of Prinsloo and requesting permission to communicate with Dewet. The end of the war is at last in sight."

Bekwal, Ashanti, Aug. 2: Major H. R. Beddoes, with 400 men and two guns started on July 24th to find the enemy's war camp. It was found and contained warriors numbering from 3,000 to 4,000 men, three days march east of Dombesi. Several hours fighting resulted in the defeat of the Ashantis after a stubborn resistance. Beddoes' losses were heavy. He and Lieuts. Phillips and Swaby, were severely wounded. Thirty men were also wounded. More troops will be necessary before the campaign can possibly be finished.

The opportunity offered in Edmonton for the opening up of new industries is exhibited in the fact that during the two days of Edmonton's celebration, the Edmonton Bottling Works turned out over 5,000 bottles of pop and aerated water.

—At St. Albert yesterday, Pierre Grey, charged on the information of Const. Toft, N. W. M. P., with having whiskey in his possession while on an Indian reserve, was brought before Justices Mitchell and McKenney. The accused plea guilty and was let off with the costs and a reprimand.

—Harry Drake, Acron, Indiana, arrived on a special train on Sunday, intending to take up land in the district. The crops in Indiana this year were a complete failure, owing to the ravages of the Hessian fly. He considers there will not be enough wheat in the state to sow next year's crop with.

—Mrs. H. M. Bannerman and her sister, Miss Bannerman, of Kildonan, Man., arrived Monday's train, and are visiting Mrs. St. George Jellett. They are on their way home from a visit to the coast. Mrs. Bannerman was a resident of Edmonton a number of years ago, her husband, since deceased, being of the firm of Stewart & Bannerman.

—Calgary Herald: General Agent Ostrander, of the Massey-Harris Co., is back from a visit to Manitoba. He says there will be practically no oats in that province this year and in consequence Alberta's big oat crop will be valuable. Mr. Ostrander says that while some crops of wheat in Manitoba will give 18 to 20 bushels to the acre the general yield from the acreage sown will not average throughout the province more than four bushels to the acre. Hundreds of acres have been plowed under.

ORIENTAL IMMIGRATION.
The Canadian people seem to be very slow in waking up to the fact that the question of oriental immigration is an important issue in Canada on the Pacific Coast. But the events of the past few weeks should be enough to convince the most know nothing that it is a question which cannot be decided by being ignored. Neither can it be decided by abuse or misrepresentation of those who are opposed to that immigration. The immense influx of Japanese during the present season has brought on a crisis, in the fishermen's strike on the Fraser. This strike has reached such serious proportions as to require the calling out of the volunteers to protect the Japanese fishermen from the strikers. Without attempting to apportion blame, it is indeed a serious situation when Mongolian labor is backed up by British military force in driving white labor out of one of the leading industries on the Pacific Coast. No doubt the circumstances are exceptional. There is very little doubt that the prospect of the present war with China was the cause of the great influx of Japanese to British Columbia this season. But once they are established there by exceptional circumstances there is every reason to believe that they will remain under ordinary circumstances, and complete the Mongolian annexation of British Columbia already begun so thoroughly by the Chinese.

Although the present provincial administration in British Columbia is essentially capitalistic in its composition and therefore necessarily favorable to cheap labor, it has felt itself forced to issue an anti-Japanese policy as well as an anti-Chinese plank in its platform, as defined by the speech from the throne at the opening of the present legislature. That it will take effective action is not likely, but that it has been compelled to announce an anti-Japanese policy is all the greater evidence of the strength of feeling throughout the province.

Leaving aside all questions of politics and all theories of political economy, it is now perfectly plain that we are within measurable distance of the industrial annexation of the vast and valuable area of Canada which lies between the Rocky Mountains and the Pacific Ocean by the Chinese and Japanese. In this in the general interest of Canada or is it not? Let us face the question squarely and take sides on it one way or the other. The Bulletin believes that such a result would be to the stupendous injury of the country at large, both east and west, believing that, it supports a policy of exclusion of oriental immigration such as has been adopted by other British Colonies, notably Natal and the Aus-tralias when similarly endangered.

THE PRICE OF EMPIRE.
The news of the death of Troopers Wood and Ball, of the Mounted Rifles, brings the war in Africa very close home to the people of Edmonton.
Both young men, were well known in the town and vicinity. Of the forty and odd young heroes to whom the people of Edmonton gave such an enthusiastic send off on New Year's night Wood and Ball are the second and third to give their lives for the honor of Canada and the glory of the empire. Woodcombe, a young rancher of Lacombe, died at Carnarvon and Wood, whose home was at Beaver lake, at Pretoria, the two extreme limits of the campaign, showing the vast extent of territory covered, and the wide range of duties fulfilled by the boys from the Far Northwest in the few months they have been in Africa. When it was said of them the night before they left here that they would prove the most useful men in South Africa, it sounded to some like a vain boast. Even those whose hopes were highest said confidence greatest could scarcely accept the statement without discount. But since then the record of the Canadian Mounted Rifles has brightened one of the most lurid pages in the military history of the empire. They have performed all kinds of duties, and have served in all kinds of localities, but particularly they led one wing of Lord Roberts triumphant advance from Bloemfontein to Pretoria. While the sympathy of the British world goes out to the friends of those who have lost their lives and to those who are suffering from wounds or disease as the result of their heroism, it is something to know that these young men, right from amongst us,—of our very own—have played such an important part in establishing British supremacy in Africa, and British prestige throughout the world. That their losses have not been greater seems little less than a miracle considering all the circumstances,—and while remembering those who have been bereaved—this is a cause for devout thankfulness on the part of many more, for valuable lives spared to future usefulness. Canada looms large and grand before the world today by reason of the self-sacrifice and heroism of her noble sons in South Africa.

THE SOUTH AFRICAN WAR.
Although the hopes of an early termination of the South African war which were entertained after the fall of Pretoria have not been realized, and there has accordingly been disappointment and dissatisfaction, to a great extent unaccountable British reverses, it is still clear that the operations which ended in the occupation of Pretoria entirely changed the character of the war from one of the first class to one a less way down the scale.
Since Pretoria there has been no question in the mind of anyone as to the ultimate result. The reverses which the British have since suffered, and which in the early days would have sent a thrill throughout the empire, are now heard of with exasperation it is true, (quite as much against the mismanagement of the British officers responsible for them as against the Boers), but without that feeling of unknown possibilities growing out of them, which rendered the air so electric during the first six months. A comparison between the conditions now and those prevailing three months ago, is the best method of judging of the substantial successes achieved by the British. No doubt Botha and Dewet are by far the most competent of the Boer generals, and had they enjoyed the same pre-eminence in the war councils of the republics at first that they do now, the task of subjugation, difficult as it is, would have been still more difficult. Be that as it may, it is clear that even their admitted genius is now of no avail except to prolong the struggle and increase the cost of final and inevitable conquest.

After all it is probably better so.
The supreme self-evidence of the British people, shaken though it was in the early part of the campaign was in danger of reassertion as a result of Lord Roberts' triumphal march, which disproved all the theories of Boer military ability, that had been established in the first part of the war.
The rude and costly surprises which have been received since then, have gone far towards putting the British public throughout the empire into a mood for seeking out the causes and removing them. To suffer the reverses that have been sustained at the hands of the very men who had been driven pell mell from Bloemfontein to Pretoria, is indeed a stern lesson in the art of war, which it is to be hoped will not be thrown away. This war has proven that Britain does not lack officers of ability equal or superior to the best among the Boers; but unfortunately it has also proven that these officers of ability are not always in command, and that indeed in many cases important commands are held by men unfit for anything except to ornament a drawing room or stop a bullet.

Looked at from another point of view the continuation of the war is a good thing. Had the war ended with the occupation of Pretoria the conclusion would have been in the nature of a surrender. A surrender involves terms—implied even when not expressed. Terms which would be accepted as binding upon the British, but would not have held the Boers any longer than the first opportunity. With a people as determined and as consensually treacherous as the Boers, the only way to secure permanent peace is to beat them to a dead standstill, and until after having exhausted every resource they stop because they cannot go on any longer. Terms to such people are only a waste of words, of time and of opportunity. Overpowering force in the only argument that appeals to their minds and fate is kinder to the cause of British supremacy in South Africa than it seems when a remnant of the Boers have decided to fight to a finish. The harder they make the fight the more complete will be their finish.

THE MAFIA'S LONG ARM.
The assassination of the King of Italy brings into prominence a New York story of a couple of weeks ago which at the time was doubtless looked upon as a fake. An Italian named Coronno Speranza had killed his foreman, and on being hunted committed suicide. On the body of the suicide was found a letter or confession written by him before committing the murder. The letter set forth that Speranza was a member of the Italian secret society called the Mafia, and that on lots being cast as to who should kill the King of Italy the lot had fallen on him although in America as he was unable to be in Italy on the date fixed, and therefore, could not actually carry out the orders of the society, for which he professed the greatest regard, he had decided (in order to show his worthiness as a member of the society, to kill his foreman, whom he accused of ill-treating his men, and then killing himself. The letter was looked upon at the time it was found as the emanation of a diseased mind, but the subsequent death of the king by the hand of an assassin would seem to indicate that there was a foundation of truth to the statements of the letter, and that the assassination of King Humbert is probably the work of the Mafia.

OUR HONORED DEAD.

John Everett Ball, whose death at Kroonstad, of enteric fever on July 28th has been reported, was a son of John Ball, contractor, of Edmonton.
The deceased joined the Mounted Rifles at Edmonton as a private and left for South Africa on Jan. 2nd. Several letters were received from him by his parents—all of a cheerful character.
The last letter was dated from Bloemfontein where he was then employed in the hospital. He was a strong, healthy, well-developed young man, 24 years of age. He was born in Prince Edward Island. His parents removed from there to the United States, and came to Edmonton some five years ago.
They located land in East Edmonton, where the deceased had a farm. He also worked at the building trade with his father, and brothers. The character of the deceased was typical of the large majority of the men composing the Mounted Rifles, strong, healthy, conscientious, of high principle, and good understanding,—they were of the best blood of Canada—and there is none better in the world as their work has shown. The sacrifice of such valuable and promising lives is what gives the true measure of Canadian manhood and Canadian loyalty.

SCRIP CLAIMS

An order in council has been issued authorizing the scrip commission to deal with the claims of 4 half-breeds now permanently resident in the Northwest Territories who were born in that part of the present province of Manitoba which was not included in the province as at first established.
Also authorizing the issue of scrip to half-breed children born in Manitoba, while their parents were visiting there from the northwest Territory.
Also to half-breed children born in unced Territory whose parents have received scrip or are permanent residents of the Northwest.

The scrip payable on account of half-breeds alive in 1885 but since deceased who would if still alive be entitled to scrip, will be distributed amongst their heirs according to the rules of the land titles act, concerning the distribution of the estate of a person who has died without a will.

The following despatch of July 26th evidently alludes to the operations which resulted in the surrender of Prinsloo and the bulk of the Free State fighters, till then in the field: Lord Roberts reports to the war office today that General Archibald Hunter's command was heavily engaged July 24 and 25, in the hills south of Bethlehem. The Boers compelled the British to retire from some of their positions with about fifty casualties.
At last accounts Gen. Hunter had worked around behind the federals while Gen. Hector Macdonald and Gen.
Bruce Hamilton were in front."

EDMONTON BULLETIN, AUGUST 3rd, 1900

ALBERTA.

The Enterprise, of Mount Pleasant, Isabella County, Michigan, has an interesting letter from Misses May and Lola Hamilton, formerly of Mount Pleasant, but at present of Lacombe.
The letter is dated July 8th, and is written to a friend:Our journey to Winnipeg was without any great interest with the exception of the ride around Lake Superior. The best way to describe that great lake is to say that it is a beautiful body of water surrounded by massive mountains of rocks (or at least we thought so) and dotted with small islands. The rocks at that time were covered in many places with trees and grass and presented a beautiful sight to the traveller.After leaving Winnipeg we passed through hundreds of miles of prairie land which has been converted into immense cattle ranches. It was interesting to see the large herds of cattle roaming over the level ground.
As we neared Calgary, one of Alberta's most beautiful cities, we began to see some timber again. From that place and for several miles north we had a fine view of a range of the Rocky Mountains. They were about twenty miles west of us. The peaks were covered with snow and looked beautiful, glistening in the morning sunlight.We reached Lacombe—one hundred miles north of Calgary—on the 11th of June. Lacombe is a small place, having a population of about three hundred and fifty. It is growing fast though and has the prospect of becoming a city at no far distant day.
Our home for this summer is nine miles west of town on the bank of Gull lake. Gull lake is a beautiful sheet of water twenty miles long and six or eight miles wide. It and the surrounding country afford excellent opportunities for fishing and hunting.
Besides having several of our Michigan animals such as deer, bear, beaver, fox, lynx, etc., we have some new ones —coyotes, gophers, moose and prairie dogs. Wild ducks, geese, prairie chickens and partridges are also numerous.
A small steamer, a sailboat and numerous rowboats furnish good accommodations for navigation and sport.
The sailboat easily carries a cargo of ninety-five tons; the steamer will carry about twenty-five passengers.
The land around here is part bush and part open prairie. We have some timber but it is small. West of us it is larger. The soil is mostly black loam and clay loam and is fertile beyond conception. It is as heavy on the hill tops as in the valleys and the growth of vegetation is wonderful. The land on our side of the lake is level, but on the other it is quite hilly.The farm products which do the best here are wheat, oats, rye, barley, potatoes, turnips, beets, carrots, and garden stuff. Corn, tomatoes and cucumbers do not do well here yet, although they can be raised. Trains are an excellent crop. Oats yield from fifty to eighty and sometimes one hundred bushels per acre; wheat from forty to sixty bushels, and other grains accordingly. Potatoes yield from three hundred to four hundred bushels per acre and we have no potato bugs.So many of our friends thought we were going to get into a lot colder country. Well, for the first two weeks we were here we thought so too, but it is warm now. It was colder those two weeks, they tell us, than it did be here some early spring, but it did not freeze. It is very warm now during the day but pleasantly cool nights.
We have had no frost since we came except a light one on the night of July 1st and it did no damage.The days are the longest we ever had. It becomes light at about two o'clock in the morning and does not grow dark until eleven o'clock at night.
We have no use for kerosene here in the summer.Work is plentiful for anyone who is willing to work, but it is a poor country to come to expecting to do nothing. Wages are fair, ranging from twenty dollars a month to a dollar and a quarter per day with board. During haying they are much higher, being from thirty-five to forty dollars per month with board. Men haying themselves get from thirty-five to forty dollars. Hays are getting very low now.Cotton goods are a little dearer here, but woolen is cheaper. Hardware is somewhat higher on account of the high freight. Salt, coffee, meats and fruits are dearer. Furniture, flour, butter, eggs, tea, etc., are the same as in Michigan.I had almost forgotten to tell you about the Indians here. There are several tribes—the Crees and Stonies being the most numerous. They are not civilized, but dress in blankets, jeans in various colors, wear their hairlong and in many ways show their uncivilized natures. They own vast numbers of ponies called cayuses (ket vose). They are kept by the government.We have been informed by some of our friends that the gentleman who came out here when we did has returned and is telling our friends that we do not like our new home. We beg to differ with him on that subject. He only stayed about a week and did not give himself a chance to find out enough to give an impartial account of the country. It is a large place to become thoroughly acquainted with in a week. We are, on the whole, perfectly satisfied with it. Of course we have the disadvantages of a new country, but we expected that. This is a beautiful and fertile country adapted to both farming and ranching. We see no reason why a poor man cannot have a good home free from debt with plenty of implements and stock.Minerals abound in and around Alberta. Coal is plentiful—veins being found from sixteen to twenty feet in depth. There is considerable timber for building; and fencing; also large quantities of stone, lime, sand, brick and gravel.We like it here and expect to soon have a pleasant and profitable farm and home. If any one is thinking of coming out here and wishes to know more about it will be pleased to answer any letters. You may write to us at Lacombe, Alberta, box 10. Perhaps the next time I can tell you more particulars, but I fear I have worn out your patience this time with such a long letter, but will trust to your good will to overlook that, however.
Please give our regards to inquiring friends and let us receive an answer soon. We remain as ever your sincere friends.

MAY AND LOLA HAMILTON.

P. S. We celebrated our glorious Fourth of July in Lacombe although it is in Canada.

SCRIP AT LETHEBRIDGE

The half-breed commission, consisting of J. A. J. McKenna, J. F. Prudhomme, Ottawa; Jas. Walker, Calgary; S. Maher, Winnipeg; F. B. Hugga, Regina, arrived here on Monday, and were occupied at the Court House for three days hearing the half-breed claims for scrip. 90 cases were submitted, a few of which were reserved to be submitted to the Minister of the Interior. In all 75 scrips were issued.
The latter were mostly taken by half-breeds from across the line, who express their intention of settling in this country. While here the half-breeds have conducted themselves in a most orderly manner, and express themselves as well pleased with the treatment they have received. In consequence of the unavoidable delay in the arrival of the Commission at different points, through which some claimants for scrip were obliged to return home the government have decided to send a special commission next year to deal with such cases.—News.

MANITOBA CROPS.

Free Press, July 28th: Barley cutting commenced in the Emerson district on Thursday of last week. The wheat harvest will begin next week.Commercial, July 28th: The weather has been fine, with moderate to warm temperatures on most days.
One or two windy days have assayed the moisture rapidly, and a good general rain is now needed. In fact in some sections late crops are already again suffering for lack of moisture. Wheat crop estimates are now being given by crop authorities, and these range from 10,000,000 to 15,000,000 bushels of wheat for Manitoba and the Territories, compared with last year's crop of 34,000,000 bushels.By recent amendments to the Dominion election laws a new and simplified form of ballot paper is provided.
It does away with the old and requires the names of candidates to be printed on the left hand side, divided by horizontal black lines, extending right across in either one of the blank spaces to the right.
The person printing the ballots must take affidavits showing the number printed and swear that none were furnished to any person other than the returning officer. It is hoped that the use of this form will do away with spoiled ballots.MacLeod Gazette: F. W. G. Hamlin, the premier of the Territories and member of the legislature for the Mac-Leod district, is in town at present.
He purposes spending the better part of a month here and will visit the various parts of the district, mainly for the purpose of consulting with the people on matters affecting the interests of this portion of the Territories.
Before leaving MacLeod he will be joined by Mr. Ross, commissioner of public works, so that the MacLeod district will have an opportunity of consulting the two leading members of the Territorial government on the various matters which come under the scope of the legislative assembly.Supt. Zach. Wood has been made commissioner of the Mounted Police in Yukon, and Supt. Primrose given the command at Tagish.The following new arrivals passed through the city for the north on Thursday: H. Brown, wife four children, from Ontario, who will settle in the vicinity of Calgary; Sidney Holden and wife; T.
Rahlin, wife and two children; E.
Gustafson and wife; D. Hamel, wife and four children. The latter families will settle in the vicinity of Edmonton.—Calgary Albertan.

MANITOBA MARKETS.

Winnipeg Commercial, July 28th: Grain movement is light, the demand being reduced to almost actual consuming requirements. Produce is moving more actively and local dealers are all very busy. The high prices paid for butter, cheese and eggs is stimulating deliveries of these. The export cattle movement is now in full swing and shipments for the last two days of this week have been the largest on record. The cattle are showing exceptionally fine quality. Labor is well employed in the city and there are comparatively few idle men. Bank clearings for the week ending Thursday were $21,783 larger than for the same week a year ago.

The local wheat market continues lifeless as there is practically no wheat offering for sale. A few small lots and odd lots are changing round lots and the business for the past week. Holders are not inclined to sell at present prices, but these prices are above export value so that business is practically at a standstill. The price of 1 hard in store Fort William closed yesterday at 81c, being 1-2c lower than a week ago; 2 hard and No. 1 northern are 2-3c under 1 hard, and 3 hard 6c under 1 hard, all in store Fort William.

BURNED FAIRIE.

Battleford Herald: An immense extent of country lying between the railway and the boundary line has been burned over, and also north of the railway to the South Saskatchewan. The fires are thought to have been principally started by lightning, and there having been no rain in these districts for a long time everything was dry and burned with great fury. Ranchers in the south are dreading the winter, fearing that if the cattle get on to the burned ground they will drift on and ever on until they starve to death. A dealer who took 1100 stockers to Medicine Hat was unable to dispose of them, no one caring to buy on account of the great area of pasture that had been burned.

BATTLEFORD BRIDGE.

Star: Mr. Gouin, Dominion inspector of public works for the Northwest, will arrive in Battleford in the course of a few days to draw up plans for the new Battleford bridge. Work will be commenced on the superstructure as soon as the timber is brought down from Edmonton. It will be obtained in British Columbia, shipped to Edmonton and floated down the river. We understand that the foreman in charge will be John Oliver, a former citizen of Battleford, who is a first class man.

HORRIBLE MURDER.

Joseph Sifton, an elderly farmer of London township, Ont., was recently found in a dying condition from bruises on the head. He was unconscious when found and died shortly after. His death occurred on the morning of the day on which he was to be married to a young woman, Miss Maggie McFarlane. It was given out by Gerald Sifton, the grown up son of the deceased, that his father had been knocking down loose boards in a building when an axe and that he had been injured by the falling boards. As a result of enquiries, however, Gerald Sifton and a young hired man named Herbert were arrested on suspicion of having murdered Sifton. Herbert has confessed to having been hired by the younger Sifton to kill his father, but his courage failed after he had struck the elder Sifton on the head, and the murder was completed by Gerald Sifton. It also appears that the younger Sifton had approached other persons besides Herbert on the subject of doing away with his father. The idea of murder arose from the fear of his possible loss of sole heirship as a result of his father's prospective marriage.

BRITISH WAR ESTIMATES.

In the British House of Commons on July 27th the parliamentary secretary of the war office, Mr. Geo. Wyndham in introducing a supplementary army estimate of £11,500,000 explained that it covered the expenses in South Africa to the end of February, 1901, and included £3,000,000 for China. The amount asked for South Africa included the cost of repatriating the Imperial and colonial troops. It is proposed to leave in South Africa 15,000 men, including 15,000 colonials and reservists desiring to remain. The amount also includes the gift of £3 to every soldier and a gift of £10 to every reservist. Including the present estimates the aggregate voted for the war office is £261,622,703.

Ashecroft Journal: J. B. Chirleson, independent of construction of the Ashcroft-Dawson telegraph line, was here last Saturday. The report in a constant paper last week that Hazelton was connected by wire with a little premature. It is likely, however, that it is accomplished now. Mr. Chirleson said that barring accidents, he was confident Dawson would exchange communications with Ashcroft not later than the 20th of September. The branch line to Omicami will not be constructed this fall. Preparations have been made to bring the construction gangs out this way when they meet. Provisions have been cached where they will be most needed and although the men will likely have to travel through a good deal of snow they will not, owing to Mr. Chirleson's business like methods, suffer any hardships from the lateness of the season.

VOLUNTEER PENSIONS.

In the House of Commons on July 16th, Mr. Oliver asked:

Is it the intention to provide pensions for volunteers disabled by wounds or disease in South Africa? Is it the intention to provide pensions for the dependent relatives of volunteers who have lost their lives in South Africa?

The Minister of Militia and Defence (Mr. Borden), replied: According to the terms laid down by the Imperial government, and agreed to by this government, in reference to troops from Canada serving in South Africa, they will be treated precisely as Imperial troops, and receive the same pensions and the same gratuities. In reference to any further provision, if any further provision is to be made, the time has not yet arrived for considering that matter.

THE MURDERED KING.

Humbert, King of Italy, was born in 1844. He succeeded his father, Victor Emmanuel in 1878. While crown prince he distinguished himself by the active part he took in the movement for promoting Italian unity. He shared with Garibaldi the triumph of the reorganization of the Kingdom of the two Sicilies. Prince Humbert served with distinction in the war of 1866, and displayed much personal bravery in the moment of disaster at the battle of Custoza, in which the Italians were defeated. He married in 1868 his cousin, Princess Marguerite, daughter of the late Duke of Genoa. Their son, the Crown Prince Victor Emmanuel, Prince of Naples, was born Nov. 11, 1869. His marriage to Princess Helen, of Montenegro took place in October, 1896. During his Majesty's visit to Naples, Nov. 17, 1898, the assassin named Giovanni Passaniti, made an attempt upon his life with a pistol, and another attempt in 1897 also happily failed. His Majesty was very popular among his subjects. The Queen is well known as an accomplished artist. The royal silver wedding was celebrated at Rome with splendid pomp in April, 1893.

The murder took place at Monza on July 30th. The King had been attending a distribution of prizes in connection with a gymnastic competition. He had just entered his carriage with his aide-de-camp, amid the cheers of the crowd, when he was struck by three revolver shots fired in quick succession. One pierced the heart of his Majesty, who fell back and expired in a few minutes. The assassin was immediately arrested and was with some difficulty saved from the fury of the populace. He gave his name as Angelo Bressi, describing himself of Prato in Tuscany.

WHITE WHALE LAKE.

Treaty day among the Indians has come and gone, on the whole very quietly. The Indians had all assembled near the mission, their usual place of payment, but this time the agent, Mr. Gibbons, insisted on paying at the nation house, four miles away. The traders, who attend at such times pitched their camp near the mission and thither everyone resorted as soon as the money had been received. It was not very long before the Indian and his five dollars had parted company. On the following day a series of horse races, foot races and shooting contests were indulged in, visitors being present from considerable distances.

The first day there were evidences of the presence of influenza. The sergeant of the N. W. M. P., made a tour of the camp and captured a keg and flask in possession of Pierre Gray. He has been sent before the magistrate at St. Albert for a hearing.

The settlers are coming, and yet there is room for more. The surveys are hard at work on the north side of the reserve. What grain was sown is looking splendid. Grasses are super-abundant and very nutritious. The wild pea or vetch is very plentifully mixed and horses and cattle show marked preference for it. Hay is in progress now, but weather is catchy for it.

The body of Mr. Milne, a resident of Calgary, who was drowned near Canmore some time ago, was found in the Bow river near that place on Wednesday last. An inquest will be held at Calgary Albertan.

An Ottawa dispatch says: Pte. W. G. Wendt, of the first Canadians, has returned to work on the electric railway as a motorman. The company kept his position open and all the time he was absent in South Africa gave him half pay.

A terribly destructive hail storm swept across the Red River valley in Northern North Dakota, the afternoon of July 27th. It was five miles wide. The centre was at Cummings, Trail County. The crops were wiped out clear, window glass broken and buildings damaged. Portland and Mayville suffered as severely as Cummings.

Free Press, July 28th: The mayor and the medical health officer of the city of Winnipeg certify to a claim for compensation of goods destroyed which were exposed to conflagration, the account to be presented to the provincial board of health. Under the law, claims for sums over $500 go to the provincial board, and under that sum to the municipalities. It has since been ascertained that goods representing several hundred dollars in value, claimed under this account as being destroyed, were not destroyed.

THE FUR TRADE.

The July statement of the McMillan Fur & Wool Co. says:

Native G. S. cow hides which are free of brands 25 lbs. and up in weight have ruled steady with few fluctuations, but upper leather is selling badly, and the indications point to lower prices. G. S. calf and kid are nearly unobtainable, even at the heavy decline in prices. Dry Hides keep on declining and no demand from tanners. They are now so low that they ought to interest speculation but this year low prices don't stimulate any better demand.

Prices for sheep pelts have declined in proportion to the decline in wool. At this season of the year the receipts are principally dry pelts.

At the opening of the recent London sale, fine wool declined about 10 to 15 per cent, fine medium 10 per cent, medium 7 1-2 per cent, and coarse 5 per cent. This decline was more than was anticipated, but since the sale has progressed, part of this decline has been recovered, and a large proportion of the wool has been withdrawn from sale. After paying the duty most fine grades of foreign wools are a good deal more than present ruling prices, even at the decline. American manufacturers continue the policy adopted for a long time of buying as little as possible. It is thought they soon will be obliged to purchase more freely and this will prevent the market from declining much more.

The war in China has stopped the sale of ginseng. This article is valuable if the Chinese do not buy it. Seneca root is lower, but still commanding fair prices. Encourage digging seneca root.

Receipts of furs have about entirely ceased. No interest is manifested. At the June sale prices for most articles had badly, and the war in China creates uncertainty, adversely affecting the sale of furs in Europe. Wolf and red fox have declined so they are not worth any more than they were before the advance occurred.

Frost & Wood ..Binder..

Victory after victory is added to the fame of the great Frost & Wood No. 2 Binder. And why? Because the Frost & Wood No. 2 Binder is the lowest, most powerful, greatest capacity, the strongest, most durable, most comfortable and convenient Binder to operate ever made. The great value of the force-feed is fully recognized by every farmer who ever used a Frost & Wood No. 2 Binder or the old style of Binder. We have a wider elevator than any other Binder, hence no fear of choking. It also saves Twine as well as grain. Twine is money. Buy a Frost & Wood No. 2 Binder and you have the most up-to-date machine made in the world to-day.

The good features of our No. 8 Mower are shown by the very large sales we have had during the present season. We have sold 75 Mowers, and in order to meet the demand have had to send for another carload.

TOWN COUNCIL.

At Tuesday's council meeting there were present the mayor and Couns. McLeod, Brown, Lee and Goodridge. After routine work the following communications were read:

G. A. Gouin, complaining of conduct and language of chief of police, and asking for an investigation. The chief of police was present and being called on to state what occurred, denied having used any unseemly language towards the complainant. The council decided that an investigation was unnecessary, and the letter was filed.

Deputy minister of finance, re town debentures of $25,000. The letter stated that the matter was in the hands of the public works department. Further communications will be forwarded later. Communication was filed.

W. A. Dickson, of Morden, wrote regarding woolen mill. Mr. Dickson had no definite proposition to make, and the letter was filed.

G. A. Gouin's request to be permitted to erect a small office building near his water tank, without covering it with metal sheeting as required by the fire by-law, was refused.

Mrs. Harriett Shear, Stirling, Ont., wrote regarding her taxes. Matter was referred to solicitor.

Lester of D. W. Macdonald, calling attention to lack of drainage of the lots on which his residence is situated, was laid on the table until next week.

Thos. Anderson wrote from Winnipeg that he had secured from the Hudson's Bay Co., authorities permission to make a side hill road to meet the change of ferry.

A deputation, consisting of W. J. Walker, J. A. McDougall, and D. R. Fraser, then addressed the council on behalf of the Electric Light and Power Company, asking that the company's franchise for the lighting of the streets in town—which expired a few weeks ago—be extended for a term of ten years. Messrs. McDougall, Walker and Fraser addressed the council. During the course of his remarks (Mr. Fraser said that the company had started with 500 lights, and they now had about 1,200, and expected to shortly install 250 more. They also had an engine which they could use for supplying lights on the streets and would be in a position to supply them at any time, all that was necessary being re-wiring and a new dynamo. The matter was referred to the fire, water and light committee, who, with the mayor and solicitor, will prepare an agreement for consideration of the company.

A petition from a number of residents on the flat was read, asking for the improvement of the road between blocks 15 and 7 river lot 4, which is in an impassable condition. Referred to board of works with power to act.

Lease was signed with J. A. Powell for the rental of lots 1, 2, 3, block 2, river lot 10, to be used as a town pound, lease to run until terminated by notice from either party. Rental $5 per month.

An agreement for the rent of certain lands from Isabella Heimick, on Queen Street, to be used as a market site, was read, discussed and signed.

A long discussion ensued on the enforcing of the pound by-law and how it was to be applied. Finally the chief of police was appointed pound keeper. A fee of 50c for each animal impounded was also agreed to and the by-law amended to that extent.

The following accounts were recommended for payment:

C. Turgeon, bond of prisoners	$8.00
Pay ahead	79.15
J. Cryderman	7.85
Town officials	373.33
Edmonton Post	62.50

VOLUNTEER SCRIP OF 1885.

Residents of Edmonton who were here in 1885 will remember the services of the Edmonton volunteer company in garrisoning the Hudson's Bay Fort until the arrival of Gen. Strange's force from Calgary. The members of the volunteer company also have a vivid recollection that while the services of other like forces throughout the North west were recognized by a distribution of medals and scrip, they were ignored. From time to time the claims of this and similar forces have been brought to the attention of the present government, with the result that an order has been issued to have their claims investigated by the members of the half-breed scrip commission who have been appointed special commissioners for that purpose. The order-in-council reads:

The Minister therefore recommends that J. A. J. McKenna, Esquire, of the department of the interior, and James Walker, Esquire, of Calgary, Northwest Territories, who were appointed Joint Half-Breed commissioners by order-in-council of 2nd March, 1900, be also appointed commissioners, under the provisions of chapter 114 of the revised statutes of Canada, to investigate any claims for services rendered as scouts or otherwise, in connection with the suppression of the Northwest rebellion of 1885, which may be preferred before them by persons resident in the districts of Assiniboia or Alberta, and to report to the government as to the merits of the same.

The scrip commission employed in Saskatchewan is similarly empowered. The order-in-council further states:

The minister is of the opinion that while these claims may not, according to a strict interpretation of the statute, have any legal right to share in the grant of land or scrip that was made to the members of the active militia, they are entitled to consideration as they no doubt contributed to the suppression of the rebellion, and with a view of having these long standing claims settled, he (the minister) recommends that steps be taken to have the same fully investigated by the commissioners who were recently appointed to deal with the claims of half-breeds in the districts of Saskatchewan, Alberta and Assiniboia.

It is to be hoped that all persons whose claims for services in 1885 have been refused recognition will take means to bring them before the commissioners during their present tour.

STAR.

Mr. Scott, Methodist missionary, having rented Mrs. Swan's house, is moving in this week. We are glad to welcome the reverend gentleman and his amiable wife. Our gain is however, the Victorians loss. Mr. Scott having resided at Victoria the past year.

Shera & Co., of Fort Saskatchewan, are opening up a general store here. The building is now nearing completion and will open up about September 1st. Mr. Shera deserves the patronage of the people of Edna.

Rumor says that we will have a flour mill here in the near future. There is undoubtedly a good opening for one and much financial encouragement would be given to a man of the right stamp. There is also a good opening for a blacksmith and woodworker.

Crops are looking well and are fairly well advanced for the season. Several new settlers have come into the neighborhood during the past few months and families of Galicians are passing through every day on their way east in search of homesteads.

Mrs. Jas. Hackett has been laid up with hemorrhage of the lungs. We are glad to learn that she is much better.

Mr. and Mrs. Thudgeon have returned after a visit to Mrs. Thudgeon's parents.

Mrs. Jas. McBride presented her husband with a bouncing baby boy; mother and son are doing well.

Our local baseball club, under the leadership of Mr. Alex. Swan, is fast becoming a strong combination. A match played to-day between the married and singles resulted in favor of the singles; score 66 to 37.

We are sorry to hear that Gray Brothers have lost a couple of fine horses, cause unknown. The people of Edna would be indebted to the board of health if they would appoint an officer for this district, one that would see that dead horses are buried and not left within a few rods of the main trail to offend the nostrils of passers by, as is the case at present. A few days since some one passing through had the misfortune to lose a horse. The harness was pulled off and the animal left on the roadside, a menace to all.

July 29th, 1900.

AN EXPLODED SENSATION.

A short time ago the London Daily Telegraph published a statement that several returning invalided Canadians were destitute in London and had been compelled to sleep in the park all night, lacking means to pay for a bed. The statement was telegraphed around the world and created a very unpleasant feeling amongst Canadians generally. The Toronto Evening Telegram had a special despatch from London declaring that the story is untrue in almost every particular. The correspondent says: "It appears that a party of Canadian invalids had been invited to the Empire Theatre, and stayed out until such a late hour that when they returned to the Soldiers' Home they found all the entrances closed and the porter refused to open any of the doors. They were forced to sleep on the benches in Hyde Park as a result."

Lord Strathcona has published the following statement addressed to the Telegraph from 26 invalided Canadians who were in London at the time the Telegraph's item appeared:

"We the undersigned members of the Canadian contingents, now in London, have read with much concern the article in your paper relating to the treatment of Canadian soldiers in this country. We, at any rate, have not, as stated, been thrown friendless into the London streets after treatment in the military hospitals. Speaking generally, we went on furlough at our own request, within a few days after our arrival in this country. We have not, as stated in your article, in our loneliness and destitution, accepted hospitality anywhere. We went to the Soldiers' Home on our arrival, and have paid our way for board and lodging. Those who obtained two months' furlough received £7 from the war office authorities, and those on one month's furlough £4, and we have nothing to complain of on the part of the authorities. A very few members of the contingents may have disposed of their money more readily than was perhaps desirable, or they themselves now think was judicious, but we object to the statements in the article applying to us as a body, for we wish to remember that we are Canadians with a reputation to maintain. We may add that some of us have made application for an advance on account of our Canadian deferred pay, and that it was granted immediately by the government of the Dominion. Most of us desire to return to Canada as early as convenient, and believe that our application is now receiving consideration at the hands of the proper authorities. This statement is made entirely at our own suggestion, as it is our earnest desire that both the people here and our comrades should know that, having had no cause for complaint, we, as a body, have made none, and, therefore, as already stated, do not endorse the statements in your article."

LOCAL

—N. D. Leprieux, of Stony Plain, went south on Tuesday.

—Nurse Barker, of Calgary, came in Monday on a visit to her father and sisters here.

—John Sparrow, of Owen Sound, went south on Tuesday after spending a week in town.

—A heavy rain occurred on Wednesday evening, damaging the roads which had begun to dry up.

—An office has been erected beside the Great West Saddlery for the accommodation of the manager of the waterworks.

—E. Carey, Sr., accompanied by J. McLeod, left Tuesday for Iowa, where he will take treatment for paralysis from which he suffers.

—A general meeting of the two Edmonton liberal associations will be held at Houston's Hall on Wednesday evening next at 8 o'clock.

—N. Brissette returned from Saddle Lake on Wednesday, having been at the lake since March repairing and adding an extension to the boarding school.

—Vincent Smith, of Good Fish Lake, came in on Friday from a two months visit to Menford, Ont., and leaves in a few days for home, going down the river.

—Frank E. Goodie is applying for a transfer of the Queen's Hotel license at Fort Saskatchewan from S. W. Calvert to himself. The application will be considered at Edmonton on Aug. 26th.

—The great industrial fair at Winnipeg, closed on Friday, July 27th, after a most successful week's run. The Winnipeg Industrial has come to be one of the recognized institutions of the Great West.

—The annual flower show under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society of the Presbyterian church will be held in Robertson Hall on the evenings of Wednesday and Thursday, the 15th and 16th of August.

—John A. C. Cameron has received instructions from the Northwest government to repair the bridge across the Sturgeon river on the Athabasca Landing trail. The piers were damaged by ice in the spring.

—Calgary Herald: A Winnipeg gentleman, who was in the city this morning, alleges that some of the Calgary exhibits to the Winnipeg fair were labelled "Edmonton" after they got down there. This is a serious report and demands investigation.

—Work was begun yesterday excavating the basement for a new block, T. G. Hutchings, is to erect on the east of W. J. Walker's new block. The building will be two stories high 25x75 feet, and built of brick, and will be occupied by the Great West Saddlery Co.

—The annual picnic of the Morinville baseball club will be held on Monday. Besides a match between the teams of Morinville and Spruce Grove, foot races and a tug of war will take place. The proceeds of the picnic are in aid of a fund for furnishing the Morinville school.

—A meeting of the liberal association and young men's liberal association was held in Houston's Hall on Wednesday evening. The associations meet again on the 15th to elect representatives to attend the liberal convention to be held in Calgary on Wednesday, the 22nd.

—On Monday's train the 14 year old son of Major McFarlane of Millet, was brought up for treatment at the general hospital. The patient was injured painfully though not dangerously by the accidental discharge of a rifle. The bullet pierced his wrist and glanced, entering his body just above the abdomen. He is being treated by Dr. Wilson at the hospital and is in a fair way to recovery.

—J. Alexander came in on Wednesday's train. Mr. Alexander is from Finley, Steele, Co., N. D., and has spent some time looking over Alberta. He went south this morning, intending to return to Alberta after harvesting his crop and disposing of his farm in Dakota. The luxurious crops of Alberta he says, contrast wonderfully with the dismal failure of crops in North Dakota, which are much worse than in the unfortunate sections of Manitoba. Mr. Alexander took samples of Alberta products with him as evidence to the people in his community of the grain producing qualities of Alberta.

—J. P. Wray, of Lucan, Ont., is here overlooking the country. Mr. Wray is proprietor and manager of a flour mill at Lucan. He expresses himself as more than surprised at the appearance of the crops here. Being a miller he has taken particular notice of the growth and he considers the crops the finest he ever saw in his life. He has seen oats where he is confident will yield 100 bushels to the acre. The west now offers much better openings for the milling trade than 1899. The east in Ontario the best quality of flour is manufactured exclusively from western wheat, the millers buying it by the carload from the grain brokers who have elevators in the west. In this connection the miller is not infrequently the victim of a trick whereby eastern and western grain is mixed and sold as all-Canadian. A curious feature in regard to the milling is that the flour manufactured in the west from wheat which has been imported, and on which freight has been paid, sells in the east at 30c less per sack of 48 lbs. than the same quantity of flour manufactured at a western mill in the district where the grain is raised. Mr. Wray goes east Tuesday greatly pleased with North Alberta.

STRATHONA'S FAIR

The Strathcona Summer Fair, took place on Wednesday and Thursday last and was successful beyond expectation. The show of horses, cattle, sheep, and pigs, and poultry was larger than ever before, especially the latter. The vegetables were excellent and there was strong competition. The same is true of the show of grain in the straw. Of course the exceptionally advanced season had much to do with the success of the exhibit of grain, grasses, vegetables and flowers. The competition in butter and bread, jams and jellies, was very keen. The show of ladies work was exceptionally large and fine. The school exhibits also were very good. The races were somewhat at disadvantage owing to the showers of Thursday afternoon, which also interfered with the balloon ascension. On that day, and no doubt kept the attendance much below what it would have been had the weather been less threatening. However, taken altogether the Strathcona Agricultural society are to be congratulated on the success of their experiment of a summer fair. The event has proven that while a summer fair has its drawbacks it also has its advantages, an important one being that a date can be fixed on which farmers can have the necessary leisure to take an active interest in the fair's success. The great interest of a fall fair rests in its being a comparison of the growing results of the season of growth. But against that is the fact that in the Northwest farmers are generally very busy at that season, and there is also a possibility of bad weather if the fair is held late enough to allow of full competition between the various products of the season. The summer fair must always lack the intense interest accompanying a fall fair. On the other hand it is just as good a time for a comparison between every class of farm products, except those of the field and garden and the people most interested have most time in which to make the comparison.

As showing the marvellous growth in the fields and gardens of Northern Alberta, in contrast to the short crops prevailing in Manitoba and the eastern parts of the Territories, some measurements were taken of exhibits in the agricultural hall, commencing with grain in the straw:

Fall wheat, quite yellow, five feet in length. It was an excellent sample and was grown on the farm of R. McKernan, just west of Strathcona, by J. W. Speddy.

Six rowed barley, nearly ripe, 4 feet 5 inches.

Two rowed barley, nearly ripe, 4 feet 7 inches.

Two rowed barley, green, 5 feet 2 inches.

Oats, 5 feet 6 inches.

Spring wheat, 5 feet 2 inches.

Pea vine, 7 feet 6 inches.

Wild vetch, pulled at Rabbit Hill, 9 feet.

Corn, 6 feet 8 inches.

Red top grass, wild, 5 feet 4 inches.

Timothy, 5 feet.

Tobacco, 3 feet.

Rhubarb, 2 feet 8 inches in length, clear of leaves, and 7 inches around at the thick end.

Cauliflower, 32 inches around and cabbage, 33 inches.

Pumpkins, 43 inches around.

White onion, 11 inches around.

Horn carrot, 8 inches around.

Beet, 19 inches around.

Squash, 31 inches around.

Potatoes, 8 1/2 x 11 1/2 inches around.

Black Spanish radish, 13 inches long.

Amongst the articles not on the list for prizes were two plates of black and red currants of wild varieties brought under cultivation. In size and beauty they far exceeded the ordinary cultivated currants and might easily have been taken for grapes.

Five exhibits showed a growth of interest in that very profitable product of the dairy, which receives but little attention here as compared with butter.

A very noticeable item appearing amongst the ladies work was a pair of ornamental horse shoes the facing of which was made up of various mineral specimens, producing a unique and tasty effect.

The poultry exhibit besides being large and good in the staple varieties and breeds contained a number of novelties, in this district, amongst them a peacock, and several pairs of Guinea fowls and rabbits.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH.

G. S. Cotter rode in from the Athabasca river, on the Swan Hills trail yesterday, bringing news of the accidental death of Harry Burbank, the well known trader of Fort St. John.

Messrs. Burbank and Cotter started out from Edmonton a couple of weeks ago with trading supplies, each driving a four horse team. The accident occurred 10 miles this side of the Athabasca river, on the 28th. July, about three or four o'clock in the afternoon.

Burbank's wagon was jammed among the stumps. He got behind one of the horses and struck him, when the animal kicked out and struck Burbank seemingly in the stomach. The blow knocked him down but he was able to pick himself up and walked across the road where he laid down, apparently suffering greatly. His companion, Cotter, did all in his power to relieve and assist him, but without avail, and the next day about 10 o'clock the injured man died. The scene of the accident is 50 miles from Edmonton.

Mr. Cotter buried the body in a temporary grave. The outfit was left as it stood, the harness was cached and the horses brought back to the Pembina river and left in charge of Mr. Brewster there. Mr. Cotter has reported to the matter to the police.

The deceased was about 42 years old and leaves a wife and child at Lesser Slave Lake. He came here about 20 years ago from Wyoming and went into the trading business at St. John, where at the time of his death he had a trading post, and another one north towards the Nelson river.

The authorities have decided that an inquest is unnecessary.

—H. Harwood left on Wednesday to spend a week at Banff.

—Jas. Ross, of Ross Bros., returned from the Landing on Monday.

—Rev. Mr. Buchanan visited White Lake reserve and mission, last week.

—Miss Lay, of Bittern Lake, is visiting in town.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. Gallagher returned on Monday's train from Winnipeg.

—J. English, charged with assault on J. B. Guild near Leduc, was brought in on Monday by Const. Fleming, having been committed for trial by R. T. Telford, J. P.

—Calgary Herald: P. W. Swartz, Mrs. Swartz, their three sons and a daughter, arrived this morning from the State of Washington. T. W. Miller, a single man, and Ole Johnson, with Mrs. Ole, and three sons and three daughters, Norwegians, arrived from the same State. They are bound for Lacombe.

Warm Weather.

We ask you to call and examine our stock of Summer Shirts. They are soft, light and comfortable, just the thing you ought to have on during warm weather.

Parties receiving a copy of this Paper are requested to mail it to some friend or person in Eastern Canada or the United States whom they think might be interested in this country. Extra Copies may be obtained at this office.

W. J. Henry & Co.

Dealer in Clothing, Boots, Shoes and Men's Furnishings.

Of the houses engaged in the clothing and boot and shoe business we can with confidence assert that none in Edmonton occupies a position of higher rank or is more entitled to consideration with reference, not only to the high commercial standard upon which its operations are based, but also to the extent of business transacted, and its influence in commercial circles. Since its inception this house has always maintained a prominent position in the general trade. The premises occupied by Messrs. Henry & Co., so far as regards facilities for the operations of their business, are all that could be desired, being ample roomy and centrally situated. Here is to be found everything in Men's, Boy's, Youth's and Children's, ready-to-wear, Tailor-Fitting, High Class Clothing, and their stock of summer goods in this line was never in its history more extensive. All the latest up to date Boots and Shoes, from a Fine Foot Wear, to the common and more serviceable styles. In Men's Furnishings the stock is replete in every respect, and patrons will find that the long established reputation of the house for high quality at low prices has not changed in the least. We take great pleasure in commending these gentlemen to the public as being energetic, reliable and honest in all their business transactions.

D. R. FRASER & CO.

EDMONTON SAW MILLS.

Manufacturers of Rough and Dressed Lumber.

There is no industry in Edmonton that contributes more essentially to the enterprise of the city than does that of D. R. Fraser & Co., proprietors of the Edmonton Saw Mills. This firm raves their logs each year down the river in large quantities and manufacture them into Rough and Dressed Lumber and Building Material of all kinds. Besides the large force employed in cutting, logging and rafting this firm also employ a large number of men in and around their mill in this city which is running at full capacity to keep up with their constantly increasing trade. Besides the large stock of native lumbers this mill keeps constantly on hand a large supply of British Columbia Fir and Cedar Lumber, Shingles, Lath, Mouldings, Sash, Doors, &c. The business of this firm is conducted upon the most liberal principles and a management that has built for them a trade that is well worthy of their untiring energy and progressive business. In all their transactions will find Mr. McDonald, the general manager of this establishment, accommodating, sociable and a pleasant gentleman with whom to transact business and ever ready to quote prices either in large or small quantities that are as low as the lowest.

W. W. MILLER.

Dealer in Groceries and Provisions.

While it is not always customary in writing of the old and established firms in a general work of this kind to extol on the merits of newcomers, at the same time, when they come as well recommended as with the ability and knowledge of their particular line of business as does the subject of this sketch it is neither advisable nor possible to omit them. Mr. Miller located in our prosperous city a short time since, leaving Traverse City, Michigan, to cast his lot in the far West. This gentleman since locating here has purchased residence and business property and put in a stock of Staple and Fancy Groceries, Provisions, &c., and has shown his faith in the future prosperity of Edmonton by purchasing other property, which he will hold for speculation. In his neat and well arranged Grocery will be found everything in the grocery and provision line that is to be found in any first class emporium of this nature: Canned Goods, Sugar, Coffee, Tea, Flour, Bottled and specially prepared delicacies of all descriptions, Hams, Bacon, Vegetables, Hermetically Sealed Goods in tin and glass. One of the chief objects of this gentleman is to see that the trade is supplied with a superior class of goods, handling nothing but the standard and best brands, and always at the lowest possible price. We take pleasure in recommending this gentleman to the citizens of Edmonton and vicinity, and the Review in doing so wishes to express its confidence in his energy and reliability so well entitled him to receive.

VICTORIA HOTEL.

CLOUTIER & CORRIVEAU, Proprietors.

Among the many new enterprises of our city there are none that give us more pleasure to write about than the one which forms the subject of this notice, Messrs. Cloutier & Corriveau, are building and will soon have completed one of the nearest Hotels in the Northwest. This Hotel, while not large, will be finely furnished throughout. Office, Parlors, Halls, Dining Room and sleeping apartments, will all be arranged and furnished in the latest style, due regard being paid to ventilation and the comforts of their guests. The table will be constantly supplied with all that the market affords, and none but experienced help will be employed in any department. It will be the special aim of these gentlemen to make the Victoria one of the best as well as most home-like Hotels in Edmonton. As in the case in all hotels in Canada this house will have in connection a neat and well arranged bar where nothing but the best of Domestic and Imported Liquors and Cigars will be furnished. Mr. Cloutier has had many years experience in the hotel business having been in charge of the office at the Alberta for the last four or five years, and previous to that filled the same position at the Queen's. Mr. Corriveau has been for a number of years engaged in the mercantile business in Edmonton and we predict for these gentlemen a roasting success. The Review extends to the new Victoria a hearty and courteous welcome.

Montgomery's Grocery and Provision House.

Among the best patronized groceries of this city there is none that enjoys a more lucrative trade than that of Mr. Montgomery. This gentleman is located on Main Street in the heart of the business district in one of the neatest and well arranged groceries in the city. Here is to be found everything kept in the grocery and provision line, and one of the main features of this house is that all goods are of the finest and freshest quality that the market affords. Nothing but the standard and best trade brands are carried, misrepresenting nothing in all cases giving patrons his personal attention, and making prompt and correct deliveries. There is nothing carried in any first class grocery that will not be found in this place, and nothing is allowed to leave the store unless in perfect condition and just as represented. Canned Goods, Sugar, Coffee, Green and Black Teas, direct from the finest tea gardens of Japan and the Orient, Flour, Bottled and specially prepared delicacies of all descriptions, Hams, Bacon, Vegetables, Canned Fruit, and Branch productions, Eggs, Butter, Cheese, &c. One of the chief objects of the gentleman is to always supply a superior class of goods for the least possible price and doing business on the principle that, honest, straightforward dealing in all cases is the surest road to success.

J. M. CLOSSON & CO.

Dealers in Dry-Goods, Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, Clothing and Millinery.

One of the most important business houses of Edmonton, which it is a pleasure to mention is that of Closson & Co. Their establishment is centrally located on Main Street. In these gentlemen's neat and well organized store will be found Dry Goods, Ladies Clothing, Boots and Shoes, Hats, Caps, and Millinery. In the Dry Goods department will be found Dress Goods from the finest silks to the more staple line down to the common prints, Ladies and Childrens Ready-Made Wears, Underwear, Hosiery, Imported Novelty Muslins, Towels, Thread Trimmings, Lace, &c. A special feature of the establishment is all classes of Ready-to-Wear, Ladies and Childrens Clothing. In the Boot and Shoe department will be found every shape and design the market requires; all the latest and Nobby styles in Hats, Caps, and their Men's Furnishings are replete in every respect. This firm also carries quite a large stock of Ladies Trimmings, Hats, Caps, and Millinery. Patrons, both old and new, will always find the genial proprietor accommodating and ever willing to extend to them a hearty welcome, giving them at all times their strictest personal attention. The honorable business methods always pursued by this firm will insure for them the same large patronage in the future and they have always enjoyed in the past.

H. ASTLEY.

The Provision Merchant.

The most popular and enterprising establishment in the grocery business in Edmonton is the one above mentioned. This grocery has since its inception met with substantial success and now enjoys a widespread patronage extending throughout this section of the country. The store is fitted up in a neat manner and the fine display thereof of choice staple and fancy groceries is unsurpassed by any other house in the same line. Here can be found the finest Choice Japanese and Ceylon Teas, Java and Fragrant Coffee, and Pure Indian Aromatic Spices, the best of the world products, Every variety of Foreign and Domestic Fruit, Hermetically sealed in glass and tin, Fine Imported Jellies, Jams, Condiments and all table delicacies. This popular house also has constantly on hand a full line of choice Ontario and Western made Cheese, Fresh Eggs, Garden Produce, Extra Nice Dairy and Creamery Butter, Hams, Confections and Country Produce. This grocery is a model one and a credit to Edmonton as our readers will agree with us after paying this gentleman a call.

LUBBOCK'S LIVERY.

Feed and Sale Stables.

Since Mr. Lubbock's inception he has conducted his business with so much energy, good judgment, and persevering industry that to-day he stands at the head of a complete Livery, Boarding and Sale Stable. His large feed and sale stable is constructed with every facility and is supplied with all the necessary conveniences. This gentleman pays the strictest attention to horses in his keeping and in this respect gives entire satisfaction to his patrons. A corps of men are constantly employed and teams and vehicles of whatever nature desired will be furnished on short notice. Mr. Lubbock is a reliable and most accommodating gentleman, thoroughly conversant with the details of his large business and with excellent judgment in regard to all animals of the equine order, and possesses the confidence of everybody acquainted with him.

HALLIER & ALDRIDGE

Bakers and Confectioners.

Importers of Foreign and Domestic Fruits. Tobacconists.

A most important addition to the facilities and opportunities offered to the people of Edmonton and visitors is the elegant establishment of Hallier & Aldridge, the well-known and popular Confectioners and Bakers. This firm has had many years experience in catering to the best classes of the community and have become celebrated for their excellence and variety of their selections, and for the purity of their Bread, Rolls, Fancy Cakes, Sweet Meats, &c. Their premises are most attractively fitted up. Their show windows filled as they are with all kinds of Foreign and Domestic Fruit are something pleasant to look at. Their confectionaries are always fresh and of the purest material. As leading caterers these gentlemen are prepared with every facility, and experienced assistants, to promptly fill all orders on the shortest notice. Their prices are most reasonable, considering the fact that they supply all the delicacies of the world and cater to their particular lines. Most fruits, &c. Aldridge are masters of the above art, and moreover have achieved a most enviable and high reputation in their business, while their honorable methods and sterling integrity incurs fair and liberal treatment to all. They also carry a full line of Cigars, Tobaccos, Cigarettes, &c.

G. BERG.

Bakery, Confectionery and Fruits.

The above named establishment is deserving of more than special mention in our columns.
